PROFESSIONAL SUMMARY

Content professional with 12+ years of experience writing and shaping content across digital, print, and on-ground platforms in English & Urdu. I specialize in turning research and audience insight into clear, engaging content; from web copy, blogs, and product content to campaign narratives and editorial calendars. I've managed content planning and production for multiple brands at once, working closely with creative and marketing teams to keep messaging consistent, on-brand, and audience-first.

I'm now looking to take on senior content writing or content strategy roles where I can apply this experience to build stronger, more consistent brand content.
